14TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

MUSINGS + MESSAGES

👤 Msgr. John Kasza, Moderator 📧 frjohn@stol.church

In the midst of Summer, we get a glimpse of Advent and Lent, specifically Palm Sunday, in today's first reading from Zechariah. As in Advent we anticipate the coming of the King, so, too, on Palm Sunday, we recall the entry of Jesus into Jerusalem riding on a colt. And while he comes for all people, Jesus is particularly interested in those who are like little children.

This Gospel passage is often read at funerals as a reminder to the survivors to give their grief to the Lord. When we find life burdensome, give it to Jesus. When times get tough, rest for a while in the arms of our loving savior. Too often, we get caught up in the whirlwind of life, and we need to slow down and place our cares before the Lord in order to be rejuvenated and revived.

Take some time this Summer to rest in the Lord and take his easy yoke and light burden in order that you might have life.

Please pray for those who are going on the Mission Trip this week.

Have a great week.

► Who helps me carry my burdens?

The Gospel seems clear; Jesus wants us to come to him with our burdens. However, I have found in my life that often times is easier said than done. Especially growing up in a culture that promotes independence and self-reliance as cardinal goods. As a young man, I bought into the myth that sharing what was burdening me merely showed weakness and an inability to get along. I put on a show of being successful and happy, but inside I was pretty empty and miserable.

It wasn't until my late 20's, when I began meeting with a small group of faith companions after attending a Cursillo retreat weekend, that I began to learn that sharing your weaknesses and burdens is the only way to truly get along. The men I shared with each Saturday, constantly helped me to lean more and more on Jesus in times of struggle, and to recognize His help in every success. From that time until today, meeting on a regular basis with faith companions, has helped me more and more to turn to Christ, and to Christ in others to lighten my burdens and find rest for myself. My faith companions have also given me many opportunities to hold up Jesus' mercy and love for them when they share their burdens. Over the years we have grown in our capacity to be Christ for each other, and for others we encounter in our daily lives.

Over the decades, the faith sharing groups I have journeyed with have evolved and changed with the stages of my faith life, but this small community involvement has been a bedrock of my walk with Christ since 1992. Through my brothers and sisters in Christ, I have come to know that I never have to do it alone. Thanks be to God, because I have also learned that I absolutely cannot do it alone. I still have bad days and good days, but my heart is full of the joy and peace that can only come from Jesus.

Yes, Jesus wants us to come to Him with our burdens. Yes, Jesus will give us rest and peace and joy. But, can you admit, as I have, that often times we need companions to help us do that? Who helps you find your way to Jesus? How have you helped others find their way to Jesus? Let's admit the truth, "We all need God and Community."

► Spotlight on Lector Ministry

Have you ever thought about reading at Mass? We are looking for people who would like to proclaim the Good News during our celebration. Are you somebody who has that gift?

As per Britannica, “lector, also called Reader, in Christianity, a person chosen or set apart to read Holy Scripture in the church services. Although formerly a minor order in the Roman Catholic Church, the office was named a ministry by Pope Paul VI in a motu proprio (initiated by the Pope without advice, effective Jan. 1, 1973) and was opened to laymen.”

At St Therese of Lisieux, lectors volunteer to read at a minimum of one Mass per month, but sometimes a few each month. We are flexible and work with your schedule using SignUpGenius for a three-month schedule. If you're interested in becoming a lector, come do an audition for us, and we will then provide all the tools necessary to be successful. There is no formal training; we help each other become better lectors, and occasionally attend a workshop as a group. Interested in signing up: Email Kym Lemanski at kaplemanski@gmail.com.

► Youth Group goes to Cedar Point!

On June 22, the Youth Group went to Cedar Point to enjoy the thrilling rides and fellowship. What a blast! We thank the Lord for the pleasant weather and the great company!

► Spiritual Messages From the Garden: A Symbol of Hope

Every garden is a prayer; an expression of our relationship with God. Seeds and sprouts are planted in the nutrient-rich soil, and we must tend our garden by watering, weeding, supporting, and nourishing the fruits, vegetables, and flowers. We cooperate with nature's processes, and there is little we can do to control or predict the burdens that may harm our garden's growth.

The garden will face storms, pests, weeds, drought, or neglect, but, like our relationship with God, it will flourish when we tend to it. We cannot simply hope that our garden will flourish; we must grasp onto hope and accept challenges so that our garden will provide the growth necessary for a bountiful harvest. Be a gardener of your relationship with God.

► Bottle & Can Returns for Teen Mission Trip

The high school group Mission Trip's need of bottle returns is ongoing. If you would like to use SipZee to return your bottles and cans from home and continue to benefit future Mission Trips, please visit their website at sipzee.com and be sure to select "St. Therese Teen Mission Trip" as the beneficiary.

We thank all those who have supported the Mission by participating in the bottle drive this past year! Please pray for the 18 volunteers as they start their journey toward Grands Rapids.

► Walking the Path

Discipleship Formation | 👤 Peggy Casing, D.F. Director 📧 peggyc@stol.church

I was writing, last week, about some ways to enrich your faith by learning something new or finding inspiration from scripture. Two suggestions were offered: Fr. Mike Schmitz's "Bible in a Year" and his "Catechism in a Year." I stand by my suggestions, and if you were to ask either of our Catechism discussion groups, I'd bet they would agree! (If you want to learn more about either of these groups, feel free to contact me.) Shifting gears a bit this week, I'd like to discuss the value of a Christian-based book club. While such groups are easy to start, you can bet that people will always have an opinion about the criteria for picking books.

There are those who will assert that the only books that should be featured in a Catholic book club are overtly religious texts. Their contention would be that books about the lives of saints, discussing sacraments, or other aspects of theological or Christological texts, should be the only ones included in the lineup. (I know; I've received hate mail to back up my assertion!) To be sure, there IS value in reading these types of texts. If you enjoy history, or deep philosophical thought, you are on your way toward enjoying this type of club.

I, on the other hand, have found a great deal of value in reading and discussing books that contain some sort of moral issue or value system featured as part of the book, yet they might be fictional stories or any other type of literature. Let's face it, that is almost any book! I have found this type of book to be of great value due to its approachability. Most folks enjoy reading a book that introduces ideas and concepts in a way that is enjoyable and not overly complicated. Most people don't choose to suffer any more than they have to! An optional book club isn't going to have any members if all of the chosen books make people's heads hurt or bore them beyond compare! In my experience, what keeps a book club going is having texts whose plots are driven by serious moral decisions or the aftermath of poor decision making, societal ills, or even their opposite! These subjects can be rich soil for things that really matter to a Christian. Just like the parables of Jesus' day, these stories of everyday life, where meaning can be found in the most common situations, allow the reader to dive into deeper issues that often bring great insight.

I am happy to say that the Archdiocese of Detroit (AOD) has joined me in my assertion! Over the past year, I have noticed that they have released several book lists that include a wide variety of genres. Having said all of this, I think we, at St. Therese, are going to follow the lead of the AOD! We have a group that meets once per month, most often on the third Thursday of the month at 10 AM. If there is enough demand, we can open up the possibility of an evening group as well. Our current members have worked together to come up with a great lineup of books, well into the future. Our book for September 21, 2023 is Jodi Picoult's Small Great Things. Please consider joining us! Also know that our reading list will be available on our parish website. Call me at Ext 308 if you are interested, and remember to check out the list on our website.

► Thank You from Right to Life - Lifespan

Right-to-Life Lifespan wishes to thank the entire St. Therese parish for its support at the recent RTL-

Lifespan Father's Day candy-bar fundraiser. RTL-Lifespan raised a total of $869 for its educational

► St. Therese of Lisieux's Parish Response Plan to Emergency Situations

Health Ministry | 👤 Marilyn Cito, Parish Nurse 📧 marilync@stol.church

A few weeks ago, Father Kasza referenced, in his Musings and Messages article, our St. Therese of Lisieux Emergency Preparedness Plan. For those of you who are not aware, St. Therese of Lisieux has an emergency plan to address adverse types of situations that could occur in our community and church.

Just to give you a little background on this, on October 18, 2018, the Shelby Township Police Department was asked to conduct a safety and security assessment of our church and the grounds and made recommendations based on that assessment. As a result of that assessment, St. Therese of Lisieux addressed each of those concerns and implemented a number of new or improved safety and security measures to ensure our church and grounds' safety.

After completion of the safety and security assessment and its implementation of improvements, in August of 2019, St. Therese of Lisieux developed the Parish Response to Emergency Situations (PRES) plan at the recommendation of the Archdiocese of Detroit. This plan addresses additional emergency situations that could occur in our church or community such as severe weather conditions, fire and smoke emergencies, medical emergencies, preventative and active shooter situations, bomb threats, and evacuation plans. At a later date, a plan was developed to address pandemics, since this situation was evolving.

Staff, volunteers, different ministries, and parishioners were educated in the Emergency Plan once it was finalized, but since we also thought it is important for our parishioners and community to know about our plans in an emergency situation, an abbreviated version of the plan was placed on our St. Therese of Lisieux website. Abbreviated copies of the plan are also available in red folders in the Medical Emergency Supplies alcove in the Gathering Space, in the Social Hall on the wall, and in the Usher's Room. The complete emergency plan manual is located in a white binder in the Parish Office, and in Father Kasza's and Marilyn Cito's offices. It is only natural for us to think that none of these situations would ever occur, but unfortunately, that is not true! That's why it is important to be knowledgeable about what to do in emergency situations.

If you are interested in reading the updated St. Therese of Lisieux Parish Response to Emergency Situations (PRES) plan, you can find it on our St. Therese of Lisieux Webpage.

If you have any questions about the plan, feel free to reach out to the St. Therese of Lisieux parish nurse, Marilyn Cito, at 586-254-4433 Ext.320 or Marilync@stol.church.

► Knights of Columbus - Family of the Month

The Knights of Columbus at St. Therese have instituted a program called Family of the Month, in which parish families that model Christian family values and visibly live them each day are recognized at Mass and presented with a "Family of the Month" certificate. If a family is chosen each month, the council selects one of the twelve family winners to represent the council/parish as the potential Family of the Month for the State of Michigan.

At the 11:45 Mass on June 25th, Jim and Sharon Blaisdell were honored as the June Family of the Month. They have been with the parish since 1991, have made significant contributions to the parish, and serve as a model of Christian values. Prior recipients of this award are the families of Dr. Fiorino and Norma DiGregorio, Jeff and Lisa Vitale, and Pete and Patti Connors. All are to be congratulated for their contributions to their parish and community.

The Knights of Columbus would like to continue to honor deserving families. If you know a family that spends quality time together, attends weekly Mass together and prays outside of Mass, have made significant contributions to the parish and church community, and serves as a model of Catholic family values, please contact Paul Bieber (gk11957@mikofc.org) with your nomination and reasons for that nomination. Thank you.

Attention high school teens! New opportunities for faith, fun, and friendship. As the young church today, learn why Faith is relevant, how to become a friend, and have fun in the process. Life is more enjoyable with a company - please invite your friends. For teens 14 - 17 yrs. old.
