MUSINGS + MESSAGES

👤 Msgr. Kasza, Moderator ✉ frjohn@stol.church

“Cut it off.” But what is “it” that we should be cutting off? In the first reading, Joshua wanted to cut off Eldad and Medad because they were prophesying. In the Gospel, John wants to cut off someone who was driving out demons in the name of Jesus. But Jesus tells us to cut off those things that cause us to sin.

Isn't it interesting that humans want to “cut off” others who don't think or act in the same way, whereas God tells humans to look to themselves and cut off personal things that are preventative to his grace?

In many cases, when problems arise, people like to assign blame: “It is so-and-so's fault; fire him” or “The reason you're having problems is because of so-and-so.” However, the real culprit is themselves. Sin comes from within the body, not outside. One's mind, heart, and actions cause sin, not someone else. Remember, we pray the Confiteor:

► What do I need to cut out in my life to foster collaboration with others?

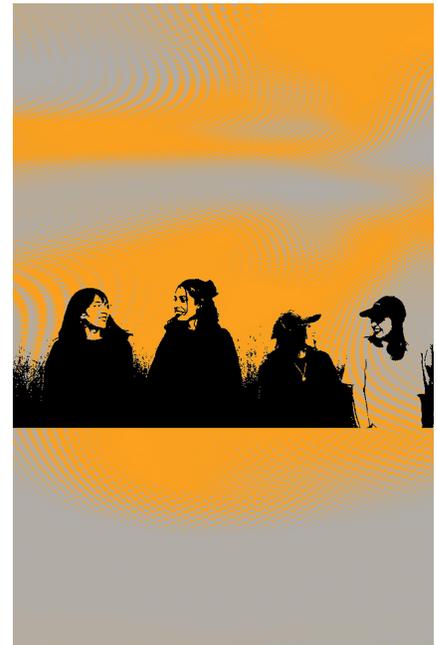

The aspect of team leadership that I have always found challenging is bringing different people together to foster collaboration toward a goal. For the sake of its financial viability and stockholders, a company's goals must be collectively achieved through a team of individuals who collaborate. Sometimes, however, people prioritize their achievements over the group's. Other workers are biased and pass judgment on others for holding different views. Still, others are perfectionists, which stifles flexibility and collaboration.

I am sure we have all experienced these obstacles while working in an organization; we can probably think of coworkers with these qualities! The challenge, then, is to shift the group from an "I know it all" attitude to a "Let's learn together" mentality, which would change the focus from individual achievements to the collective success of the team.

Jesus encountered many strong personalities in his team, as well; in fact, we hear in today's Gospel about his beloved disciple, John—one of the brothers Jesus named the "Sons of Thunder." Ouch! They must have been a handful for Jesus! John became disturbed because someone other than the disciples was performing miracles in Jesus' name. In his mind, he and his fellow disciples were chosen by Jesus, so they were exclusive in doing the work. We see the same idea in the first reading, in which Joshua complained to Moses about Eldad and Medad. Joshua wanted Moses to exclude them because they were not among the group present at the tent to receive the Holy Spirit. However, the Lord sent them the Holy Spirit anyway.

Through scripture, the Lord urges us to stop finding differences and faults in each other when, really, everyone has the same goal. Working to realize the goal of producing the kingdom of God on Earth requires us to foster collaboration with others in the spirit of Jesus. We need to cut out elements that hinder genuine connection and mutual growth, such as our self-centered tendencies, judgments, prejudices, and perfectionist desires. By letting go of these elements, we can start to focus on our similarities in spreading the Gospel. We can play to each other's unique strengths and come together as a team despite our differences. Our society tells us to "cancel" people if they do not believe as the mainstream group does. As disciples, we must resist this approach, for it brings hurtful division and keeps ourselves and others from deeper relationships with God. Working together creates a space where genuine collaboration and understanding can thrive, reflecting the love and unity that Jesus calls us to embody. I believe that this Gospel message is something we should seriously reflect on, especially as we approach November!

Zoom Into Action

👤 Evangelization Committee

The last two words of Evangelize are Zoom and Engage. Matthew 28:19 says, "Go forth and preach the good news to all nations." We proclaim the Good News by what we say, what we do, and how we behave. Evangelization always shows love for one another and takes many forms. Children need to learn how to be good communicators, and this takes a lot of practice! Here are just a few simple practice scenarios:

- Writing thank-you notes
- Making introductions
- Learning to order independently at a restaurant
- Greeting guests at the door
- Creating a short prayer from the heart

Evangelization can happen in everything we do, and it is shown in the way we live and love. The practice of evangelization makes everyone feel better, including our Lord!

Pope Francis reminds us that "The primary mission of the Church is to evangelize."

DISCIPLESHIP FORMATION

Can you help us once per month on Sundays?

We are still in need of help for Children's Church. This is the program where children are dismissed at the beginning of Mass, and go to another room to hear the readings in a more kid-friendly way. Volunteers read the readings to the children, and then talk about them. Materials and guidance are provided, so there's no worry about having enough to do in the twenty to thirty-minute gathering. This commitment takes place during either the 9:45, or 11:45 Mass. Please contact Susan (586-254-2944 X309) if you can help!

Something new for parents

Whether it is something about bible basics, the sacraments or the positive relationship between science and religion... Parents of all students who are registered in our formation programs will be sent a SHORT email on, or around the 1st, 11th, and 22nd of each month, September 11th- May 11th.

That email will contain just a few sentences and a link to a brief video, or article. The whole thing should take less than 15 minutes to view or read. It is our hope that this information can help parents in their own understanding of the faith so they can build skills for leading their families in parish participation. We also hope that it can serve as a forum to have their faith questions answered as well. Please pray for all those involved.

Bible Study - The Book of Revelation

Our study has begun, but there is still time to register if you are interested. The same study is being offered on Tuesday mornings at 9:30 AM, or Thursday evenings at 6:30 PM. Each group will meet a total of eight times. We are studying the Book of Revelation using the revised materials from the folks at Little Rock Scripture Study. Contact the Discipleship Office if you'd like more information, or you'd like to register.

► Celebrate the Feast of St. Therese of Lisieux

Celebrate the Feast of St. Therese of Lisieux with us! On Tuesday, October 1 our church will be filled with joy and charity.

We are gathering infant clothing for ages 0 to 36 months, which can be new or gently used, along with children's books and toys that are in good condition. All donations will support the Crossroads Care Center in Auburn Hills (www. crossroadscarecenter.org/). Join us in this act of kindness and community spirit!

Items can be dropped off on Tuesday, October 1, between 9:00 AM and 7:00 PM.

Thank you for your support!

► Warning Signs of Alzheimer's Disease

Health Ministry | 👤 Marilyn Cito, Parish Nurse 📧 marilync@stol.church

We all have had times when we couldn't remember the right word to say in a conversation or we forgot where we put something. This is normal. But if these things seem to be happening more often than not, or everyday tasks are becoming more difficult, something serious may be occurring and your healthcare provider should be consulted.

Dementia is a general term for brain changes that affect our daily lives. Language skills, memory loss, shortened attention span, trouble focusing, completing everyday tasks, and problem solving skills may all be affected. In 2024, the Alzheimer Association reported nearly seven million Americans have Alzheimer's, which is the most common type of dementia. According to the World Health Organization, dementia is the seventh leading cause of death globally.

Common warning signs of dementia include having difficulty with everyday tasks like keeping track of monthly bills, following a recipe when cooking, playing a card or board game, remembering how to use a common piece of equipment in the house (like a can opener), or even telling the time on a watch. Concentrating on doing or completing tasks, or placing things in unusual places (like keys in the refrigerator) and not being able to recall where they are may indicate dementia.

According to the Cleveland Clinic, asking the same question over and over again, or telling the same story multiple times about a recent event might indicate early warning signs of Alzheimer's. Communication problems like stopping in the middle of a thought, struggling to think of words or the names of objects, or having difficulty participating in conversations might occur. Losing interest in family, friends, work, or social events may cause people to want to stay home. Becoming apathetic over time may indicate the disease is progressing from mild dementia to a more advanced stage of the disease.

The Mayo Clinic reports people with dementia may also have difficulty with visual and spatial abilities and cause them to get lost when driving. People may forget where they are or how they got there. Forgetting what day of the week or time of the day may be signs of dementia.

Personality changes are also signs of dementia. People can become anxious, confused, fearful, easily upset or mad, or even depressed if they have dementia. Troubling behavior like using poor judgement when handling money or neglecting to take care of their appearance may occur.

If you notice one or more signs in yourself or another person, it can be difficult to know what to do. It's natural to feel uncertain or nervous about discussing these changes with others. Voicing worries about your own health might make them seem more "real." Or, you may fear upsetting someone by sharing observations about changes in his or her abilities or behavior. However, these are significant health concerns that should be evaluated by a doctor, and it's important to take action to figure out what's going on.

“Through my fault, through my fault, through my most grievous fault.”

When Jesus tells us to “cut it off,” he is not speaking literally. He uses these graphic examples to highlight the seriousness of sin. If we truly want to become holy—and thereby attain heaven—we need to cut off or remove those things that prevent us from being godly.

This week, reflect on what needs pruning (or cutting off) in your life to make yourself more holy.

► Congratulations Anniversary Couples

Our parish recently celebrated its annual Jubilarian Mass where nearly 900 years of marriage were represented! Couples ranging from 10 years all the way to 75 years of marriage celebrated Mass and their anniversaries with us. Congratulations to all our couples who celebrated a milestone anniversary this year and thank you to our Marriage Ministry team for hosting this celebration.

► Knights of Columbus - October News

Sadly, summer is over, but the Knights are going into Fall as busy as ever. Below is a note regarding the newest addition to our council and a summary of activities that are coming up in October.

- On Sunday, Sept. 15, Jacob MacKinnon, son of Matt & Cheryl, became our newest Knight in a ceremony after the 11:45 AM Mass. We welcome Jacob to the council.
- The Breakfast Buffet and Coffee & Donuts began once more in September and attendance was great. The next breakfast will be Oct. 6 and Coffee & Donuts Oct. 27. Please watch the events section of the bulletin for future dates.
- Some families struggle to provide their children with warm coats for the winter. The Knights will once again collect Coats for Kids during the month of October. There will be boxes in the Gathering Space beginning Oct. 1 to place your donation of clean, gently used coats and jackets as well as brand-new ones. We are looking for all sizes from toddler to high school. With your help last year, over 1,000 coats were delivered to the Capuchin Service Center in Detroit, and they were very happy to receive them.

- On Oct. 11-13, you will see Knights in their vests, at several locations and at church after all the weekend Masses, handing out Tootsie Rolls to raise money for organizations that help those with physical and intellectual disabilities. When you see one of our Knights, please say "Hello" and be generous.
- The Armor of God sessions for the men of the parish began once more in September to discuss "Relics and Sacramentals." These sessions use the Catholic Answers book entitled "20 Answers" to discuss topics that are relevant to today's men. Please watch the bulletin for future dates and topics.

- A Special Needs Mass will once again be held on Sunday, Oct. 27 at 11:45 AM Mass. A reception will be held for our special needs families in the Social Hall after Mass.

As you can see, October is a busy month. The Knights of Columbus look forward to seeing you at these events.

► A Catholic Approach to Voting in the 2024 Election

As the 2024 election draws near, we again have the privilege to vote. It is our responsibility to be as well-informed as possible. On the Welcome

Desk in the Gathering Area, a brochure entitled "A Catholic Approach to Voting in the 2024 Election" is available to take home. The "Focus" Fall issue printed by the Michigan Catholic Conference is a reference guide to assist you in your decision-making. Please be sure to take a copy.
