SALVATION IS FOR ALL.

MUSINGS + MESSAGES

👤 Msgr. John Kasza, Moderator ✉ frjohn@stol.church

With the sixth Sunday of Easter, we are reminded that Jesus would be sending us a gift after his physical departure from the earth: The Holy Spirit. Earlier this month, 39 students received the gift of the Spirit in confirmation. Each of us has received the Holy Spirit at our baptism and again at confirmation.

At every Mass, the priest calls down the Holy Spirit upon the gifts of bread and wine, as well as upon the assembly. During matrimony and holy orders, the presider blesses those receiving the sacraments and invites the Holy Spirit to fill their lives and ministry. Those who are forgiven and healed through penance and anointing of the sick also experience the gift of the Spirit to assist them in their recovery from sin and sickness.

As we anticipate the great feast of Pentecost, we might want to ask ourselves, "How often do I pray to the Holy Spirit and ask the Spirit to ► Salvation is for all.

At one time, I had a friend who left the Catholic Church to join a different denomination. We were talking one day, and she shared the theme of her pastor's recent sermon involving the "narrow gate" mentioned in scripture (Matthew 7:14). His understanding was that salvation is only available to the few baptized Christians who have followed a particular understanding of scripture and the corresponding rules and practices stemming from that understanding. For him (and now her), the vast, vast majority of all humans—past, present, and future (Catholics included)—will not obtain salvation. As we talked, I kept thinking about the totality of Jesus' message throughout his ministry, as well as today's readings in particular. It seemed that my friend and her minister had fallen victim to the same kind of misinformation that we hear being sorted out in our first reading. I get it—lots of us wonder what we "need to do to get to heaven!" Luckily for us, each reading from today's liturgy provides us with direction and the message that God's love and salvation are open to all.

To begin, in the first reading, we hear that "the apostles and elders, in agreement with the whole church," decided that becoming an adherent of the Jewish religion, through the act of circumcision, was not needed before becoming Christian. They explained that, while there were, and are, some "necessities" of the faith and a way of life that comes after becoming a believer, there need not be "any burden beyond these (later) necessities." The doors are open. Jesus, and salvation through him, is available to everyone.

Further, as we sing our psalm for the week and hear the proclamation of our second reading, we are exposed to a universality in the words that shouldn't be missed. The theme begins as we hear the psalmist urging, "May all the nations praise you!" and thus echoing Jesus' desire for unity, "that they all may be one," as found in John's gospel. Doubling down on this theme, we hear the description of a city without a temple, "for its temple is the Lord God almighty and the Lamb." This means that faith, through worship in a specific temple, isn't tied to a geographical location. Wherever you are, whenever you want, you can call upon God the Father, Jesus, and even the Holy Spirit. It is this desire for a worldwide, truly

"catholic" church (note the lower-case "C") that we proclaim every week when we recite the Creed! These statements affirm that God's love, mercy, and care for us aren't limited—they're for the whole world.

Finally, we hear again, in the gospel, that Jesus invites everyone to the gift of faith and salvation. He says, "Whoever loves me will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our dwelling with him." This freely given invitation to open our hearts to God's presence through the indwelling of the Spirit is one that anyone can take advantage of. It is our limited, human hearts that often build obstacles to Christ's presence. Again, it is good for us to remember that those obstacles aren't coming from God. God loves you and wants to be with you, now and forever. The gift of the Spirit is open and available to all.

Let us all remember that God's salvation is for everyone, no matter who they are. As we move through this week, may our focus be on God's gift of the Spirit dwelling within us and his love that deems us all worthy of that presence.

► Invite the Sacred Heart Into Your Home

✉ Mike Saigh

The Men of the Sacred Hearts are seeking several men to help promote devotion to the Sacred Hearts of Jesus and Mary in families and homes. With pre-scheduled appointments, a three-foot statue of Our Lady of Fatima and an 8x10 photo of Jesus and Mary (yours to keep) will be delivered to your home for one week. The Rosary is prayed, and with materials left behind, families are guided in dedicating themselves and their home to the Sacred Heart of Jesus. Jesus made twelve promises to those who honor His Sacred Heart, as revealed to St. Margaret Mary Alacoque. To volunteer or request a home visit, email msaigh442@gmail.com with your name, contact info, and area of interest. Thank you.

FREEDOM THROUGH JESUS' SACRIFICE

Join us for an inspiring evening at Youth Group! We'll be diving into the profound truth that Jesus' work on the cross breaks the power of sin in our lives, enabling us to choose to obey God and live by the Spirit. We'll discuss how Jesus' sacrifice gives us the strength to overcome temptation and live in freedom, empowered by the Holy Spirit. Don't miss this opportunity to reflect on the freedom we have in Christ and how it transforms the way we live. Bring a friend, and we'll see you there!

Great Conversation Starters from Bishop Sheen

Bishop Sheen was a scholar, educator, author, orator, and evangelist. Pope Pius XI named him Monsignor at the age of 39. Between 1930 and 1950, he gave weekly radio talks called "The Catholic Hour." He was known as "the Face of Catholicism" for 40 years. Many called him the greatest communicator who ever lived! He possessed a captivating, intelligent, yet humorous ability to meet people where they were. His messages are timely and timeless. Here are a few more of his quotes that you might find to be great conversation starters at the dinner table:

- "The refusal to take sides on significant moral issues is, in itself, a decision. It is a silent acquiescence to evil. The tragedy of our time is that those who still believe in honesty lack fire and conviction, while those who believe in dishonesty are full of conviction."
- "Never forget that there are only two philosophies to rule your life: the one of the cross, which starts with the fast and ends with the feast; the other of Satan, which starts with the feast and ends with the headache."
- "You must remember to love people and use things, rather than use people and love things."

DISCIPLESHIP FORMATION

► Children's Church and More – Help Needed!

Children's Church (Liturgy of the Word) will be taking a break for the summer. If you'd like to volunteer for our Sunday programs, which resume on September 7, please contact Susan at susand@stol.church.

Help is also needed for our grades 1-6 "GROW" program, as well as our grades 7-8 "Mission" program. For GROW, contact Julie at juliel@stol.church. For Mission, contact Veronica at veronicaL@stol.church. They'll be happy to provide you with a full description of any available positions, what support you can expect, and more!

Adult Bible Study about the Mass

Join us for "A Biblical Walk Through the Mass," a five-session, video-based study featuring the work of Dr. Edward Sri. In this study, Dr. Sri explores the roots of the words and gestures we experience at Mass and explains their profound significance. This fascinating tour of the Mass will renew your faith and deepen your love for and devotion to the Holy Eucharist.

We'll meet at St. Therese beginning June 17 or 19, depending on your choice of meeting day and time. Tuesday gatherings take place from 9:30 to 11 AM, and Thursdays from 6:30 to 8 PM. Participants can switch sessions as their schedule allows. There is a $30 fee for the book, workbook, and other printed materials. Pay in advance in the parish office or at the first class. For more information or to register for the study, call Kim at 586-254-2944 or contact her via email at Kimc@stol.church. It is important that you register so we can have materials for you. If you prefer, online access to the videos and an online version of the workbook can be purchased directly through Ascension Press for $5.95 plus tax.

► Going to the Emergency Room

👤 Marilyn Cito 📧 marilync@stol.church

Unless you have visited an emergency room before, you probably haven't given much thought to the items you should bring, should you ever need to go. Although we all hope we never need to go to the emergency room, at some point in your life, you or someone you live with or help care for will likely need to go. So, although we may not want to think about it, jotting down this information and keeping it in a handy place is a good idea. Some of the information is a "no-brainer," but other things may not be as obvious. And, of course, if there is a medical emergency where time is of the essence, don't worry about all of these things; just take the essential information.

Unless you require immediate, life-saving treatment, you will undergo a registration and triage process before being seen by a doctor. This involves sharing your personal and medical information, which you will need to bring with you. There are also other important items to bring to the hospital:

- Health insurance cards and credit cards: You will be asked about your health insurance. Depending on your plan, you may have a copay or a deductible, which means you might have to pay a certain amount for medical services. Ensure you bring your health insurance information and a credit card to the emergency room. If you can't afford to pay for medical treatment right away, the doctor will treat you and mail you a bill afterward.
- Photo ID: The hospital may request your photo identification during registration to avoid health insurance and billing fraud. A driver's license, state ID, or passport will work.
- Next of kin information: The hospital will need to contact your family members about your treatment, especially if your life is at risk. You will be asked for this information at registration, but it's a good idea to keep a typed or written list in your wallet for future reference. If you have a Patient Advocate, make sure you have a copy with you or on file at the hospital.
- List of current prescription medications, over-the-counter medications, and any recreational drugs you might take: The nurse will ask you about any medications you currently take, including prescription medications, over-the-counter medications, herbal supplements, multivitamins, and recreational drugs. Keep a list of your current meds in your wallet. If you need a medication card to record this information, St. Therese of Lisieux has them available in the medical emergency alcove in the Gathering Space. It is important to have this written down in case you forget, are too sick or excited, or you can't answer when asked. If a friend or relative brings you in, they may not be aware. In an emergent situation, there might not be time to ask. This information is crucial for healthcare providers when ordering treatment. If you are bringing in someone and don't have a list, bring all prescription medication bottles you can find.
- List of allergies: Any allergies should be listed on the medication card, as well. These should include medications, latex, foods, environmental factors, or even insects, such as bees. This will help your doctor treat you safely and effectively. This will also help the doctor if you are experiencing an allergic reaction.
- Personal assistance devices: If you use any type of device to help you communicate or move around, such as eyeglasses, hearing aids, dentures, a walker, or a cane, bring it with you and ensure that this is documented in your medical record. If you have any medical devices, such as a pacemaker, be sure to inform your healthcare provider.
- Phone and charger: Bring your phone and charger so you can keep your family updated on treatments, tests, transfers to rooms, or any other developments.
- Legal documents: If you have an advanced health directive, power of attorney, or other documents that may impact your care, bring those so the doctor knows who can make decisions (if you are not able to do that), as well as instructions that direct what type of treatment you want or do not want. This will help the doctors treat you according to your wishes.
- Additional information: Bring the name, address, and telephone number of your doctor so that they can be listed in your medical record (in case the physicians need to consult with them). It is also a good idea to bring the name, address, and telephone number of your pharmacy.

Things you should not bring to the emergency room: Cash, jewelry, or anything valuable.

Hopefully, we can all stay healthy and avoid the emergency room, but if we do end up there, we can be prepared.

► Behind the Scenes Spotlight on our Maintenance Technician, Andres Rodriguez

👤 Evangelization Committee

Question: Tell us about yourself.

I have been working at St. Therese for about 3 or 4 months now. I love how friendly everybody is. Everybody seems to be in a good mood when they walk in through the doors. It's a warm ambience. I'm 30 years old, and my parents were born and raised in Puerto Rico. I was born in Germany and lived there on a military base until I was 7. Our family moved to Fort Drum, New York, for a couple of years, we moved back to Germany, and then we returned to the US. I recently lived in Virginia and Colorado, and I moved to Michigan about 9 years ago. I enjoy being here close to my family. Also, I am completing an Associate of Computer Science at Macomb Community College and plan to attend Oakland University for a Bachelor of Computer Science.

Last year, Andres worked as a farmhand with 12 horses in Dexter, MI.

Question: What are some of your favorite pastimes?

I'm very outdoorsy. I love nature and animals. I enjoy camping and white-water rafting. One of my favorite hiking trips was the Incline in Manitou Springs, Colorado. The scenic spots with mountains and trails are my favorite. Other sports I like are skateboarding and soccer.

Question: What is your favorite way to pray?

I pray the most in the morning, before sunrise, when it's nice and quiet. Most of the time when I pray, I have an inner monologue with the Lord. But if I know that no one is around and listening, I will pray out loud. For example, I like to go out on walks with my husky to find a quiet place to talk to God.

Question: Do you have anything else you would like to share?

My mom told me that since I was little, I've always been a kind and generous soul. My goal is to share this positivity throughout my life wherever I go.

Yes, Andres, I agree with your mom! You are a kind soul, and it was a delight meeting you. When you see Andres, make sure you give him a big hello!
