How do I

Respond with grace

when I feel dismissed?

CONNECTING POINT

 Peggy Casing, Director of Discipleship Formation  peggyc@stol.church

Has a new, young coworker ever told you that you don't know how to do the job you've been doing for over twenty years? Or maybe you presented a new insight only for the "powers that be" to insist on doing things the way they've "always been done." I'm sure we can all think of a time when we've offered an opinion (or even stated a concrete fact) and were dismissed by the listener. Whether in a boardroom or at our own kitchen tables, each of us knows the frustration that comes from this type of human interaction. Rest assured, Jesus knew it, too!

In today's gospel reading (Luke 10:1-9 or Luke 10:1-12, 17-20), we hear of Jesus sending out 72 disciples. He tells them to go out, minister among the people, cure the sick, and proclaim the Good News of the kingdom of God. He prepares them, though, for the reality that not everyone will welcome their message. He instructs them:

► How do I respond with grace when I feel dismissed?

“When you enter a town and are not welcomed, go out into its streets and say, ‘Even the dust of your town that clings to our feet, we wipe off against you.’” Don’t get hung up on the word “against.” This response isn’t one of hatred or revenge; it is based on the idea of recognizing when the listeners aren’t open to our message, moving on, and letting go. In the context of Jesus’ mandate, in which His followers are always to choose love over everything else, it makes perfect sense. Jesus wants His disciples to love themselves enough to avoid futile and frustrating pursuits. He also wants them to provide their audience with a clean break, essentially saying, “Okay. We’ll leave you alone. Obviously, you aren’t ready to hear what we are saying. We take nothing from you, and you owe us nothing.” By following Jesus’ guidance, they part ways with complete autonomy—an autonomy that respects the individual decision-making of all involved.

Jesus’ guidance remains relevant for us today. We encounter many situations where agreeing to disagree is the only path forward. Handling these situations with grace means leaning into an expression of courteous goodwill that is built on respecting someone enough to choose to move on and let go. How can we respond with grace when we feel dismissed? Sometimes, that might mean the use of a few, well-chosen words. At other times, remaining silent and eating a bit of “humble pie” might be the best path. Still, maybe it is something else. Whichever way, Paul’s often-repeated greeting, featured in today’s second reading (Galatians 6:14-18), still resonates: “The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit, brothers and sisters. Amen.” Whether asking for God’s grace as an unmerited gift of divine assistance in the moment, or as an expression of courteous goodwill, I pray that all of your encounters be overflowing with God’s abundant grace.

► Fill a Backpack!

👤 John Karski, Director of Evangelical Charity ✉ johnk@stol.church

At the beginning of each academic year, most school districts provide extensive lists of the necessary supplies that students are expected to bring for use in their classes. This task can be a significant burden for families struggling to make ends meet.

Throughout July, our Family of Parishes is sponsoring a donation drive to gather supplies for students. A list of requested items can be found on flyers in the Gathering Space. Your contribution will certainly help any child anxious about starting school—a new school, a different grade, making friends, fitting in—all while knowing their family is struggling. With your help, at least they will be comfortable knowing they have all the right supplies in their backpacks as they walk into their classrooms this fall.

Please return your donations by Monday, August 11.

The Personal Side of Pope Leo XIV

Even though many of us are in awe of our new pope (especially because he is from the U.S.), it is heartwarming to see the “human” side of him, which helps us relate to him and comprehend that he is truly “one of us.” Here are a few things that you may or may not know about him:

- He was the Editor-in-Chief of his high school yearbook.
- He is a fan of the White Sox.
- He likes to play Wordle.
- His favorite sport is tennis.
- His colleagues have praised him for his missionary heart.
- He was at Villanova Seminary at the same time that one of our weekend priests, Fr. Ron Essman, studied there. They attended classes, ate meals, and participated in many activities together. Fr. Ron remembers him as a “really nice guy” and is pleased to have had the opportunity to spend time with him.

Next week, we will take a look at his many years in Peru.

DISCIPLESHIP FORMATION

► Children's Formation Registration

Happy July and summer! Although school is still two months away, we want to inform you that registration for Faith Formation classes for children in 1st through 8th grade is now open. We offer electronic registration for all of the children's formation programs at our three parishes (St. Therese of Lisieux, St. Isidore, and St. Francis-St. Maximilian).

To register, visit <https://disciplesunleashed.org/formation>.

We are already preparing engaging lessons, games, and activities to instruct and inspire children of every age. Please register as soon as possible to reserve your child's spot.

Adult Formation Opportunities

Did you know that you can take online classes through Sacred Heart Major Seminary? Check them out at <https://equip.shms.edu>. These classes are self-paced, and many are free of charge. If there is a charge, please contact the Discipleship Formation department.

Looking for inspiration? Watch "The Boy From Milan: Stories of Carlo Acutis" on Formed.org. Discover the inspiring story of Carlo Acutis, the young boy on the path to sainthood. You may have heard of him—the sneaker-wearing, computer-loving "gamer saint" of our time, but beyond the headlines and hashtags, the real story of Carlo is deeper and something the world desperately needs to hear. Known for his intense love of God, devotion to the Eucharist, and quiet acts of charity, Carlo's life was a testament to everyday holiness.

Featuring personal stories from those who knew him in real life, this documentary reveals the heart of a boy who saw Jesus in everyone and never missed an opportunity to love. His simple yet profound faith continues to touch lives, proving that sainthood is for all of us.

Be inspired by Carlo's true story and discover that holiness is possible in daily life.

We still can benefit from the webpage Carlo created: Eucharistic Miracles of the World (<https://www.miracolieuucaristici.org/en/liste/list.html>).

► Tips for Healthy Summer Gatherings

👤 Marilyn Cito ✉ marilync@stol.church

It's July, and the summer seems to be flying by already, which is all the more reason to take advantage of this great weather and plan some summer functions with friends and family. I can't think of anything better than having a picnic or gathering outside to enjoy a wonderful Michigan summer! But eating healthy during the summer is also important. Amidst summer picnics, vacations, barbecues, and scorching temperatures, we sometimes opt for convenience over healthy eating. Regardless, we must eat with "intention." Smart eating and other good health habits (like being physically active) help reduce the risk of chronic diseases like heart disease, diabetes, osteoporosis, and the disabilities that can result from those illnesses.

Since social gatherings with friends and family are an important part of staying well and keeping our minds sharp, plan that picnic and make it a "heart-healthy" event!

Consider the following tips for reinventing the traditional menu without sacrificing taste.

- Try some new proteins. Instead of traditional hamburgers or hot dogs, try black bean vegan burgers or turkey dogs, as well as grilled portobello mushrooms topped with grilled pineapple on a whole-wheat bun. Fish (and even turkey) tacos are fun, too, and salmon is always a favorite.

- Let the kids help prepare for the gathering. Kabobs are always a good, low-calorie choice, and they can be grilled or eaten raw! Have the kids cut up fruit and vegetables and put them on skewers. Cutting up vegetables for a salad is also a great activity for kids to participate in.
- Switch up the dips. Replace the heavy, high-calorie dip with hummus or Greek yogurt-based dips. Additionally, consider replacing potato chips or Fritos with raw vegetables, whole-wheat pretzels, Sun Chips, or vegetable straws.
- Don't forget the water! Eliminate sugary sodas and teas in favor of water, which will keep you hydrated. Plain iced tea with lemon is a good choice. Use a pretty container to hold the water and add fruit or cucumbers. People will love it and find it much more refreshing than soda.
- Think outside of the box for desserts. Instead of having heavy desserts like cake, brownies, and pies, use fresh fruit like watermelon, grapes, or strawberries.
- Enjoy the fresh factor. Support your neighborhood farmers and buy locally grown fruits and vegetables to incorporate in your summer meals. Attending farmer's markets or visiting the Eastern Market is a fun way to spend a day! Locally grown fresh corn, cherries, strawberries, raspberries, and blueberries are wonderful!

Making wise food choices is important and easier than you think. Additionally, it's equally important that we teach our children healthy eating habits to prevent chronic medical conditions and obesity.
