CONNECTING POINT

👤 Chris Kozlowski, Director of Mission Support ✉ chrisk@stol.church

Fr. Ron once offered a definition of humility that has stayed with me: "Humility is not thinking less of yourself; rather, it is thinking of yourself less."

In today's world, it is easy to become immersed in the rat race of achieving and constantly pushing forward. Most people I know are going full speed ahead, and I often feel the same way. When we maintain this singular focus, it becomes easy to forget to slow down and "smell the roses." Yet it is in our shared love for humanity that the true beauty of living is found.

Over the summer, I was riding my bike and decided to take a break along the side of the road. I was pouring sweat and trying to catch my breath when an older man, perhaps in his eighties or nineties, pulled his truck over, rolled down his window, and simply asked, “Are you okay?” It may not have seemed like much, but I was uplifted all day by the thought of a complete stranger taking a moment to check on another human being. That is what thinking less about yourself looks like.

► Where will I make a humble choice today?

A second instance occurred the week after Thanksgiving. This story may sound familiar, as I shared it previously in an INSPO article during Advent, but it is worth repeating. I was driving through a heavy snowstorm, taking my daughter back to a friend’s house so she could return to college. The roads had not been plowed, and the snow continued to fall. My car, which is normally reliable in winter conditions, could not manage a snow-covered incline. As I sat there, stuck and unsure of what to do, I noticed a young man using a tow rope to pull another vehicle up the hill. He held up a finger, signaling that he would be right back, and sure enough, he returned a few minutes later to help me.

When he stepped out of his truck, I noticed that he was wearing a shirt and tie underneath his overalls and jacket. With a smile, he explained that his wife teases him for always keeping towing supplies in his truck and that he was dressed up because he was on his way to church. This young man spent nearly twenty minutes helping me get unstuck. His hands grew cold, his knuckles were scraped and bloodied, yet he stayed until the job was finished. When I tried to offer him money, he refused, saying his wife would “kill him” if he accepted it. I suggested he place it in the collection basket at church, but he declined again, simply wishing me a great day before heading off. This, too, is what thinking less about yourself looks like.

At the parish level, I am continually amazed by the many individuals who give their time each week to bring the Eucharist to the homebound. This is not a transaction; it is a willingness to set aside one’s own needs to serve those who cannot serve themselves. It is the willingness to bring the most sacred gift of our faith to another person, made possible by a profoundly humble and beautiful ministry.

If we want our lives to be defined by humility, we must think less of ourselves and more of others. When we do, we will find the time and the opportunity to make someone else’s day. So, the question becomes: Where will I make a humble choice today?

Prayer for Archdiocesan Restructuring

Come, Holy Spirit.

Make your presence known
as we restructure the parishes and ministries of our Archdiocese.

Be our light on the path we walk together.
Help us hear your voice
in the quiet of our own hearts,
in the wisdom of others,
and in the world around us.

We know you are with us
in every step of the process.
Give us clarity, understanding, and direction.
In all things, help us share the light of your love.
Amen.

St. Anne, pray for us.
Blessed Solanus Casey, pray for us.
Mary, Mother of the Church, pray for us.

► A St. Vincent de Paul Thank-You

👤 Jayne Thomas

Can you imagine 92 friends needing support at Thanksgiving, or another 81 at Christmas? Think about coming up with 35 turkeys and 39 hams to give away, along with gift cards to cover the rest of the holiday meal. Well, here at St. Therese, we lifted up adults and children with these very items, giving these families a chance to enjoy their 2025 holidays! In addition, 16 of our families were given Christmas gifts through our Adopt-a-Family program. The generosity shown by our parishioners who donated these turkeys, hams, and gift cards is simply staggering! Thank you so much for your support of the St. Vincent de Paul chapter here at St. Therese. We appreciate your time, donations, and prayers. You made such an impact on the lives of our neighbors in need. A special thank-you to all who brought in gift cards as part of the Giving Tree tags—another amazing collection of financial support.

Currently, we are taking part in the Brown Bag Project, sponsored by our Evangelical Charity staff. Please pick up a brown bag from the tables near the front doors and return it by February 16 with the items listed on the tag. These will help restock our food pantry. May God bless each of you for your continued support of this ministry!

The Miraculous Medal: Please Share Your Story

Over the past several weeks, a basket of Miraculous Medals has been on the Prayer Request Table, with an invitation to take one to keep in your purse, pocket, etc., so that, when the Holy Spirit “nudged” you and let you know that someone was in need of it, you would be prepared to offer it to them and, perhaps, say a prayer with them. If you took one but have not been nudged yet, let the Holy Spirit know that you are open to His messages; consider these small gestures:

- Say a prayer, open your heart, and let the sunshine in.

- Walk with a smile on your face.
- Give eye contact to others.
- Give a simple greeting to people whom you have never met.

Please share your story about passing the Miraculous Medal to someone else by emailing info@stol.church. We would love to hear it!

For now, the Miraculous Medals are gone, and we await your wonderful stories!

► Health Ministry

👤 Marilyn Cito ✉ marilync@stol.church

Mental Health Concerns

According to the National Institute of Mental Health, anxiety is the most common mental condition in the United States—that's 40 million adults (18% of the population)! Half of the people with depression also experience anxiety. And, in light of everything going on in the world today, it is likely that even more people than ever are experiencing some type of anxiety or depression. So, we all need to recognize whether we are experiencing those feelings and take steps to reduce stress.

Next time you start to feel anxious, acknowledge that feeling. Pay attention to physical cues like racing thoughts, worry about what is going to happen, fear, chest tightness, or shallow breathing, and identify what is causing them. Removing yourself from that situation/person will help. Once you determine what is causing those negative thoughts, focus on the present moment to stop them. Pay attention to your breathing. If you are breathing quickly, slow down and breathe deeply to lower your heart rate and blood pressure. Other steps you can take to reduce anxiety include getting enough physical activity (150 minutes per week), eating a healthy diet (which will help regulate your blood sugar and boost your antioxidant levels), and practicing self-care (such as doing things you enjoy, meditating, and praying, all of which can have a calming effect).

Do things that make you happy! If you love being with a friend, call them! If you love being with your kids or grandkids, plan an event with them. If you love being with your dog, go out for a walk. Join a social group like the Rambling Roses at St. Therese, or share your time and talents by joining a parish ministry. Think about what you like to do and do something! Focusing on others will help relieve some of the anxiety you are feeling.

Reach out to a trusted family member/friend to talk about your anxiety, and if world events are fueling it, avoid those topics! If you have no one to talk to, consider talking to your priest or a counsellor.

Although everybody feels unhappy now and then, it usually lasts a few days and goes away on its own. However, if you or someone you know is feeling “down,” and it's getting in the way of daily life, it may be a sign that you are experiencing depression. Feelings of depression vary among people. Some experience sadness, anxiousness, helplessness, and feelings of worthlessness. Irritability, anger, decreased interest in activities, low energy, trouble concentrating, difficulty sleeping, and eating too much or too little are additional signs of depression. Trying to focus, remember details, and make decisions might feel overwhelming. When these feelings do not go away on their own in a few days, this may become a serious concern. Some people may even think about suicide or death.

Depression can be caused by changes in the brain structure, genes, life events, medications, chronic conditions, childhood problems, alcohol abuse, head injury, or anxiety. If you or someone you love is experiencing depression, it is important to reach out to your doctor or a licensed mental health professional. Treatment can include therapy, medications, and other modalities.

If you are interested in learning more about these mental health concerns, please join us on Thursday, February 5, from 12 to 1 PM, immediately following the Rambling Roses meeting in the St. Therese Social Hall. Dr. Agnes Ward from Macomb County Community Mental Health is a wonderful speaker and will present a lecture on anxiety, depression, and suicide. Please RSVP to the Parish Secretary or to Marilyn Cito, Parish Nurse, at 586-254-4433, or marilync@stol.church, as a light lunch will be provided.
